This magical home has been created with love and care and is so private, hidden away in its own world on a huge rear block. The solar passive design interacts beautifully with the outside spaces, making this such a liveable home. There is an abundance of outdoor space as well as a variety of accommodation.

There are 2 or 3 bedrooms in the loft style second storey of the main cathedral ceiled, open plan dwelling, plus plans approved for two more bedrooms to the rear of the main dwelling. There is also a fully self-contained separate studio, as well as an open sunroom which could be enclosed to create another self-contained studio or more bedrooms. There are so many different ways this home can be configured to accommodate differing requirements for friends and family sharing space.
